BOARD OF HEALTH.
THE QUARANTINE OF ANCE STILL IN PORCE.
The Board met yesterday afternoon in the chamber of the Councilmen, at 3 o'clock, and remained in session intil after 6 o'clock Considerable excitement and uriosity was manifested by a numerous collection of out-iders, as it was thought that something extraordinary must be occupying the attention of the members. It must be occupying the attention of the members. It access that at the last meeting a special committee had been appelnted to take into consideration and report upon the ordinance recently passed, placing vessels coming from Baltimore, with sickness on beard, under the usual quarantine of thirty days. This was a measure considered necessary by the Health Commissioners, in order to guard against the spread of contagious diseases in this city, but which has called forth no small amount of remonstrates from persons residing in Baltimore, who consider that it is a precaution altogether uncalled for. A few days ago, it will be emembered, we published a letter in this paper, from Mayor Hincks, to our own Chief Magistrate, denouncing the measure, and threatening retaintion if the ordinance was not immediately repealed. The committee of the Board of Health gave in their report yesterday afternoon, which arged the properity of acquiescing in the request of Mayor Hincks. I.e. the repeal of the ordinance.

A long, warm and animated debate sprung up on the report, and some of the members indulged in the most atter personalities. A vote was therefore taken on the report. The result atood 14 in favor of and 32 adverse to the adoption of the report. The ordinance will therefore stand unchanged, notwithstanding his Honor. Mayor Hincks, and the clamors of the Baltimoreans. A fuller account of the proceedings will be published in to-morew's leave, as the Beard resolved that the clerk should be permitted to furnish the report ers with fall information of all that transpired. On Monday another meeting will be held, to which outsiders will be admitted. coms that at the last meeting a special committee had

After the counsel on either side had summed up. After the counsel on either side had summed up, the committee consulted together for a short time, when Alberman Howard announced the decision:—
He raid that it had been clearly proven that No. 5 was run into by No. 14 at the time specified. It was also proved that Mr. Sachmaster was knecked down by a man area. No. 5's rope. It was not proved that Mr. Tyler had command of No. 14 at the time; on the contrary, it was proved that he did not. It was also proved that Imniel Burns, (who is not a member of the department,) and not Edward Burke, struck Mr. Sachmaster. Allerman Howard said that, according to the new law the committee could not substitute any other punishment or decision in lieu of that of the Fire Commissioners. Except to reverse, and send it back to the said Commissioners. If the committee had the power they would suspend every member of No. 14 who was with the engine at the time, for three months; but as they were situated, they were obliged to either concur with or reverse the decision of the Commissioners, as far as this committee was concerned, was reversed.

SUPPOSED SUICIDE BY TAKING LAUDANUM—CORONER'S INQUEST.

Before Coro- Eilton.

Coroner Hilton held Inquest yesterday afternoon, at 128 Duane street In the body of a woman, 22 years of age, named and da Cook, alias Adelaide Creed, who, it is suppost, committed suicide by taking laudanum.

From the evidence taken on the occasion it appeared that for the last seven or eight years the deceased has been leading the life of a courtesan; that during the stime she frequently was heard to say that she would soon be the means of her own destruction. About a month ago, means of her own destruction. About a month ago, while boarding at the house of Mrs. Williams in Duane while boarding at the house of Mrs. Williams in Duane street, she attempted to commit suicide by swallowing a dose of laudanum, but through the exertions of her friends her life was saved. In a few days after this occurrence she took lodgings at the house of Margaret Gidney, where she remained until the hour of her dissolution. On Wednesday might deceased purchased a bottle (half ounce) of laudanum at a drug store in West Broadway; and intimating to one of her female companions that she would destroy herself, she proceeded to her boarding house, where she arrived at 12½ or 1 o'clock Peccased then went up stairs to her room and stayed there about half an hour, when she came out into the entry way, and sitting down in her night clothes, toldMrs. Gedney that she had swallowed some laudanum. The landlady of the house supposing that she had axid an attempt at suicide, was about sending for a doctor, when deceased got up and laughingly said "I did'nt take any; I was only getting the girls on a string." This denial, of course alloyed all fears as to the safety of de-ceased, and at the request of Mrs. Gedney she went to bed. About 2 o'clock A. M., a male friend called to see e deceased, and at half past eight o'clock he left her in

The Harlem Railroad Frauds. Before Hon, Judge Ingraham.

MORE OF THE KYLE FRAUDS-LIABILITY OF THE

HARLEM RAILEOAD COMPANY FOR $27,153 WORTH OF THE SPURIOUS STOCK.

SEIT. 20.—James M. Drake and another, vs. The New York and Harlem Railroad Company.—This was a suit for the sum of $25,000, with interest, on a loan alleged to have been made by the plaintiffs in good faith, to Alexander Kyle, the defendant's agent. Messrs. Martin and A. F. Smith appeared on behalf of the plaintiffs, are stock brokers in the city of New York. The defendants, by their act of incorporation were empowered to issue stock to raise money for the construction and equipment of their road. Pursuant to the act of May 7th, 1840, authorizing the company to increase their stock one million five hundred the contract of the con dred thousand dollars, thirty thousand shares, at $50 per share, were duly subscribed for and payment made thereon, and the stock issued to the subscribers. The company made due provision for the transfer of such stock, and they appointed Alexander Kyle, the Secretary of the company, their transfer cierk, whose signature, with that of the President of the defendents, should be the sole authentication required to the certificate for said stock.

on the 18th of June, 1854, Alexander Kyle applied to the plaintiffs for the loan of $25,000 upon 500 shares of the preferred stock of the defendants, and produced to the plaintiffs certificates numbered 1,624, 1,806, 1,807 and 1,800, which were regularly signed by the President and Secretary of the company, and were in all respects regular upon their face, and certified that Kyle was entitled to 500 shares of preferred shares of the defendant's stock. The plaintiffs subsequently applied to the defendants but they refused to deliver to them the certificates of ransfer.

The plaintiffs subsequently applied to the defendants, but they refused to deliver to them the certificates of nansfer.

The defence set up by Mr. C. W. Sandford was that frauds had been perpetrated on the company by Kyle, and that the plaintiffs were themselves guilty of negit gence and carclessness in lending so large a sum without making inquiry as to Kyle's ownership of the stock, or his authority to borrow money on them. A witness for the defence deposed that Kyle was only the Secretary of the company, at a salary of $1,200 a year, up to May. 44, which was then raised to $2,000. The financial affairs of the company were conducted by the Treasurer.

E. D. Stanton, stock broker in Wall street, was called by Mr. Smith for plaintiff, and testified that Kyle had been in the habit of dealing extensively in stocks of the defendants' company, and that his (Kyle's) transactions with witness amounted to $800,000 for the six months previous to the discovery of the frauds.

A clerk of the Union Bank deposed that Kyle kept an account there, and at one time had deposited $58,000.

Judge lagraham in charging the jury reviewed the law as to the liability of companies for the acts of their agents. If the plaintiffs were guilty of negligence they were not entitled to recover; but if they were not, and the defendants were guilty of negligence in the transaction of their business, then they were liable for the acts of their agents.

The jury immediately rendered a verdict for plaintiff their business, then they agents.

The jury immediately rendered a verdict for plaintiff for $27.163 47, the full amount claimed, with interest.

The Court made an allowance to the plaintiff counsel of one per cent in addition.

Defendants got twenty days to make a case for review in the Court of Appeals.

The Pestilence at Norfolk and Portsmouth.

OUR NORFOLK CORRESPONDENCE.

Norrota, Sept. 19—12½ o'clock.

The news of to-day is of a more cheering nature; the deaths are less than in any twenty-four hours for one menth past. We are beginning to hope that the disease is effectually broken. The air, according to the physicians, is purer now than for four weeks back. Owing to our not having received coffins from the North before that time, and in many cases even since, two-thirds of those who died had to remain in a state of putrefaction two days before it was possible to bury them. Notwithstanding, seven have been hurried to their trenches in one wagon frequently. Bu! that, thank heaven, has coded now. The unfortunate victims are buried in graves just low The unfortunate victims are buried in graves just low enough to keep the dogs from pawing them up—the air, consequently, became much infected; the stench coming from some houses was intolerable. And speaking of stench, I will drop a word to my fellow-citizens from Norfolk; send and have your houses opened—have your stores opened, or else suffer the consequences either this winter or next summer; the effluvia rising from decayed matter in some of the stores at Norfolk and Portsmouth is almost enough to knock a man deep when near them.

matter in some of the stores at Norlois and Portsmouth is almost enough to knock a man down when near them.

The Rev. Mr. Bagnai, reported dead yesterday, was a noble specimen of the true man. One year ago, at the age of twenty-seven, he attached himself to the Baptist age of twenty-even, he attached himself to the Baptist church, and immediately entered the ministry, and has been ergaged, during the prevalence of this terrible scourge, in administering spiritual comfort to the clek and dying. Poor Bagnall! The last time I saw him was at the bedside of a poor dying man named Jacoman. The thick clotted blood was constantly coming from his mouth, so that he could scarcely speak. Bagnall endeavored to cheer the dying man-reading and praying by his bed. The next I heard of him an order was handed me by his uncle for his funeral ceremonies. He died after an illness of three days. I report to day the death of the Rev. S. W. Jones, pastor of the African church (M. E.) He died after an illness quite lingering, having taken relapse. His daughter, a very interesting young lady, died on the 16th. I was with her when she was taken with the black vemit. Poor girl! Some moments after she ceasted vemiling the first time, she smilled, and looking into my face, said—"I am going to heaven, where I will be happler than here."

I have written a longer letter than usual, and must step. The following is a report I obtained a few minutes since from the Howard Indirmary, for the 24 hours ending at 12 o'clock:—

This at rine slip, it was determined to hold a grand regatta on the waters adjacent to the Red House, Harlem. This affair is to be gotten up on a most magnificent scale, and will be far ahead of anything of the kind ever before attempted in this country, not only from the character of the prizes offered, but also from the number of boats that will compete for them, as there are quite a good many boatmen and amateur clubs who have signified their intention to participate in the race. The regatta will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at 1 o'clock P. M., at which time it will be high tide. The waters in front of the Red House are admirably situated for the proposed regatta, as it can be witnessed by 50,000 people with comfort, should so many desire to be present. The distance run is to be give miles. The judges' boat will be in trout of the Red House, and the boats in starting from there will row to a stake boat situated to the right, about a mile; then returning at the cast side, will pass the judges, and proceed to a stake boat a half a mile to the left, and then will return at the west side to the starting point. The race can thus be witnessed all along shore. There have been four descriptions of races determined on, viz.—An amateur club six oar race, a four oar race, a two pair of sculls race, For the latter the following prizes will be given:—First prize, a gold medal worth $100, and a purse of $20: fourth, the entrance fee of $10.
